What college/university are you currently attending? Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS); graduated from Howard University

Field of Study (Major): Masters of Arts in International Relations (Economics & Finance focus)

Why did you choose this field of study? I chose to pursue a Master's degree in International Relations to better understand how global policy shapes the lives of marginalized communities and to develop practical solutions for economic advancement across borders. My experiences studying and serving in Latin America revealed the urgent need for culturally informed, equity-driven leadership in international development — work I am deeply committed to.
